

Gena's Key Points

God knows best!

When will we ever learn to trust God. To some it comes easier than others. I didn't have my dad in my life from the age of 9. It was Mom, Jane and me, the three musketeers. We had all we basically needed, especially love. Mom remarried when we were 14. Mel was ok, Dad had to marry another or go to prison. So we never saw him much after that. He loved us but his sin was his bondage. He loved mom and us until the day he died. Sin will take you further than you want to go. There were many things we had to deal with. I came to point of not trusting easily. There many traumatic experiences, especially not when hearing from my Dad for years at a time. This alone caused me troubles relationships proved untrue, there were Christians that were cruel, even when we were doing right. I am so thankful that I've found a church that will love you no matter who you are and what you've done. I'm not just saying that to build up our church. It isn't perfect but, it's the best I've ever found I have true friends and brothers and sisters; I trust and feel the love of God. John and I were kicked out of a church once. O, glory be, if someone makes a mistake

Adults Class: “Seeing What Really Matters”

Scripture References:

John 5:10

Story Summary:

After a wonderful miracle of restoration, the Jews began to grumble and complain because this man who had been restored to wholeness was carrying his bed on the Sabbath. When asked why he was doing so, he replied, "the one who made me whole told me to take up my bed and walk." They questioned him about who it was but he did not know and Jesus had blended in with the crowd. Later, Jesus found him in the Temple and told him not to sin anymore or a worse thing could happen to him. He then told the Jews it was Jesus who had healed him and they hated Jesus and wanted to kill Him. Jesus told them that up until now, my father has worked and now I am working. They became even angrier and really wanted to kill Him because he called God His father and this made Him equal with God. Because of their own traditions and belief system, they were blind to the truth. We must always be open to the truth and refuse to allow preconceived ways of thinking to make us blind to the ways and words of our Saviour, Jesus the Christ. I hope to see you in Sunday School.
